

Transition Service

Moving between different stages of life, such as starting or moving school or starting college, is especially hard if you find change difficult, as many adopted children do.

Other significant events such as house moves and holidays that impact on the familiar routine of day-to-day life and the early stages of placement for a new adoptive family can all prove to be a really challenging time.

Our transition parent partners provide advice about strategies and support that can help during key life transitions and work with families to plan for change.

Upon referral, a family will be assigned a transition parent partner.

They will offer 1:1 support sessions with families helping to plan for smooth transitions by taking them through stages and strategies for transition planning and setting goals to achieve this.

This will be done via 6 structured and planned online or telephone sessions.

We also offer closed Facebook groups. One for Early years and Primary education and one for Secondary and beyond. A transition parent partner, will post information in the group and make themselves available each week if people have questions.
